Item 276

git_comments:

git_commits:

1. summary: GROOVY-9594: Update src/main/java/org/codehaus/groovy/control/customizers/SecureASTCustomizer.java (closes #1282)
   message: GROOVY-9594: Update src/main/java/org/codehaus/groovy/control/customizers/SecureASTCustomizer.java (closes #1282) Co-authored-by: Jenn Strater <jenn.strater@gmail.com>

github_issues:

github_issues_comments:

github_pulls:

1. title: GROOVY-9594: Rename whitelist/blacklist in SecureASTCustomizer to mor…
   body: …e meaningful names

github_pulls_comments:

1. Merged, thanks everyone for the feedback.

github_pulls_reviews:

1. ```suggestion * If neither an allowed list nor a disallowed list is set, then everything is permitted. ```
2. while you're in there... I tripped over this when reading it the first time. I think this might be clearer?
3. both here and below, I think this was supposed to be 'disallowed receivers list' instead of 'receiver[']s disallowed list'?
4. both suggestions sound good to me

jira_issues:

1. summary: Rename whitelist/blacklist in SecureASTCustomizer to more meaningful names
   description: Existing names will be kept as aliases for backwards compatibility in the first instance.

jira_issues_comments:

1. Breaking change only if you are relying on the exact wording of some error messages.
2. Proposed PR merged.